Mrs. Walter Pratt Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Frances Ethel Pratt, who had lived in Didsbury all her life, passed away in the local hospital on Sunday, August 21, at the age of 44 years.

She was a member of St. Cyprian's Anglican Church and of the W.A. of that church.

Rev. E. R. Doyle will conduct services in St. Cyprian's Church here at 2 p.m. today (Wednesday) with interment to follow in Didsbury cemetery. Didsbury Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Pratt is survived by her husband, Walter, a son, David; two daughters, Elaine Frances and Carol Judith, all of Didsbury; her father, W. S. Durrer, of Calgary; three brothers and two sisters.

LOCAL SCOUTS PRESENT AT WORLD-WIDE JAMBOREE

Niagara-on-the-Lake is the present scene of a world-wide Boy Scout jamboree, and four local lads are in attendance. They include Neil Youngs and Jack Johnson, from Jack Robertson's 1st Westcott Troop and Larry Gillie and Jim Hadley from the 1st Didsbury Troop, led by C. T. McNichol.

Prior to their departure for the eastern playground, the boys from the west spent a night under the stars at a spot in one of Calgary's parks, and were royally entertained by Scout and civic officials.

No word has yet been received by this office as to how the boys have fared so far, but we are quite sure they will have many interesting tales to tell when they return home after mingling with boys from all parts of the world.

(Late report: The boys have been heard from and report an excellent time).

A GOOD LISTENER

Before going to sleep each night, a small child told her Teddy bear all about the day's events. Her mother finally asked, "Does Teddy ever answer you when you talk to him?"

"No," said the little girl, "he doesn't exactly answer, because he can't talk. But he can listen!"

Invasion Scheduled For September 21st

Shown above is a map of the route to be taken by thousands of Canadians when the mass civil defence evacuation program takes place on Wednesday, September 21. To date, all we know is that we will have 4,000 new residents on our hands for that date. We trust some information will be forthcoming in the near future so we may pass on to our readers just what is to be expected when the "invasion" takes place on our southern suburb. Sounds like it will be a busy day in these parts. Hope it doesn't rain! (Cut Courtesy Calgary Herald)

GOLF NOTES

Last week's putting competition held by the Ladies Club, was won by Mrs. Helen McNichol.

During the next two weeks ladies are asked to hand in one score card to Mrs. J. Currie as these games will be used as qualifying scores for the club championship. Championship games can be played anytime during the week, if cards are handed in by Thursday evening.

It is hoped this will enable anyone who cannot play Thursday to enter for the championship games. Tee: 5:00.

Tee Thursday at 4 p.m.

SUNDAY GOLF
The golf course on Sunday was a busy spot as a group from the Calgary office of "Purity 99" journeyed here to tangle with a number of local club members, male and female.

No one has supplied us with details of the scores but we understand there is some argument as to the final winners and a court of inquiry has been set up. (In case the investigating body is prepared to offer a trophy for the one who lost the most balls, we have a contender not too far from this pen).

New Store To Open Saturday

McDonald's Men's Wear open the doors to their new modern building on Saturday, August 27th, featuring everything for the male side of the family.

The new structure is one of the more modern ones in town and goes along with the trend of letting you see the interior without even opening the front door. Lacking is all of the continuous fluorescent type and blonded wood greets you from every corner.

Incorporated in the building is the office of McDonald Insurance Agency and a unit of the Provincial Government Treasury branch system.

Weddings Hold The Spot Light

(From Our Own Correspondent)

HERCHEK - SCHEIDT
Robertson United Church in Edmonton was the scene of a recent afternoon marriage of Miss Elsie Herchek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Herchek of Chapman, and Walter Edward Scheidt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Scheidt of Didsbury.

White ponies and pink gladioli decorated the church and white satin bows marked the pews. Rev. J. W. Bunnbridge officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white tulle and French lace over white satin, fashioned in princess line. A fitted jacket with ivory point sleeves, topped the strapless bodice. Her finger tip veil of applied ivory net, crowned with a pleated net coronet, encrusted with rhinestones. She carried a bouquet of white gladioli, mingled with ivy.

Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace and earrings, all of the gown's line. A trio of attendants, dressed in blue, preceded the bride down the aisle.

Adrienne Scheidt, sister of the groom, was maid of honor. She was dressed in a gown of pale blue tulle over net and tulle, with a full skirt. The strapless bodice was topped with a matching bolero. She also wore a matching headpiece and gloves and her bouquet was of pink carnations. Helen Herchek, bridesmaid, wore a gown of blue net and lace over tulle. She wore a matching headpiece and gloves and her bouquet was of yellow carnations. Gail Herchek, niece of the bride was the flower girl. She was dressed in a floor length frock of pale blue net over tulle with matching headpiece of net and pink roses. She carried a bouquet of white daisies and pink roses.

Best men were Lorne Miller and Robert Bickforth. Ushering guests to the pews were Raymond Nuss and William Herchek. Organist was Mr. Lorne and Mrs. Edward Herchek sang, "The Wedding Prayer" and "Ave Maria."

Following the ceremony a reception for about 500 guests was held in the Chipman Hall, when Mr. Lorne Miller proposed the toast to the bride.

To travel the happy chos was aqua linen suit with navy and white accessories. A corsage of pink orchids was pinned on her shoulder. After a honeymoon to Banff and Western United States, the couple will make their home at Didsbury.

Jack Topley Dies In Vancouver

Word was received here Monday of the death of Mr. Jack Topley one of the earliest settlers in this district.

Details of Mr. Topley's life are not available to us at this time, but we discovered he homesteaded here in 1901 and later took up residence in Didsbury about the year 1926.

Mr. Topley moved to Vancouver about a year ago to live with a daughter, at whose home he passed away.

Surviving are four daughters and one son. At press time funeral arrangements had not been completed. Mr. Topley was pre-deceased by his wife Ester, about two years ago.

APHIDS ON COVER CROPS

Aphids are plentiful on cover crop in southern Alberta this fall, and species other than those found on barley are among them. Not until frost arrives or the insects have killed the plants are their activities likely to cease, say entomologists of the Lethbridge Science Service Laboratory. One difficulty, the scientists point out, is that we have here not merely one generation of insects, but a succession of generations with the aphid numbers increasing as they feed.

Cover crops in southern Alberta are late this year and where aphids are present damage can be severe. Spraying with malathion is a control measure that can be used to advantage if plants are at a stage where they can be expected to recover from attack.

The toxicologist with the Field Crop Insect Section, S. McArthur, advises that malathion should be used at a minimum rate of one pint of 50% or one-half pint of 100% malathion per acre. It can be applied with the regular weed sprayer using between 5 and 10 gallons of water per acre. The cost of the spray material runs between $150 and $200 per acre. Whether or not this additional expense is warranted will depend on the condition and prospects of the cover crop concerned.

It takes about 48 hours for full results of the treatment to show, and the malathion continues to kill up to 7 days. Re-infestation may occur in two weeks time, but with the cooler weather of approaching fall the aphids are not likely to build up so rapidly. Livestock can be fed on treated cover crop 10 to 14 days after spraying.

One important use of cover crops is its place in erosion control. Where aphids have completely destroyed the crop, steps may have to be taken to prevent soil drifting. Sowing of winter wheat or fall rye between September 1 and 15 may provide a lumpy soil surface or later furrows, using a cultivator or lister depending on the nature of the soil. As with other modern pesticides, it is always wise when using malathion to observe carefully the precautions on the container.

It was raining cats and dogs and a man stepped into a small restaurant and sat down. As the waitress came for his order, he glanced out the window and remarked, "Boy, this looks like the big flood."

"The what?" asked the girl.

"The big flood. Haven't you read about the big flood and ark landing on Mount Ararat?"

"Oce, Mister," replied the waitress. "I ain't looked at a paper all week."

FARMERS MAY FULFILL LAST YEAR'S GRAIN DELIVERY QUOTA

The Canadian Wheat Board has announced that prairie farmers will be allowed to fill last season's eight-bushel grain delivery quota before new marketing restrictions go into effect.

Previously the Board had announced all grain to be delivered against 1954-55 quotas would have to be marketed by July 31.

In instruction to the end of last week the board said first preference in the new crop year would be given to deliveries of old crop grain.

Producers may complete deliveries under the final 1954-55 quota of eight bushels a specified acre.

However, all such deliveries must be for the new 1955-56 pool accounts and settlement must be made basis 1955-56 initial payments.

The Board said sharply increased shipments in recent weeks had increased boxcar requirements at many points and had widened the area from which shipments were necessary.

It will be several months before transportation can be supplied to provide space for the old quota, the Board added.

As soon as all deliveries against the old quota are completed, the Board will be prepared to authorize marketings under the 1955-56 initial delivery quota.

Initial quotas for 1955-56, as recently announced by the Board, consist of 100 units of grain from each producer. Each unit represents either three bushels of wheat, five bushels of barley, five bushels of rye, or eight bushels of oats.

Flax and Durum wheat are not subject to quota controls in 1955-56.

The Right Of The Producer

(Farm and Ranch Review)
The allocation of box cars to local elevators for the transportation of western grain has aroused a great deal of concern and controversy in recent years. The subject came up once again during the recent session of the agricultural committee of the house of commons when various elevator organizations presented their separate views. In our opinion the main concern should not be what any elevator organization wants but what the producers desire.

These are times of serious grain congestion in country and terminal elevators. A limited number of railway cars are allocated to each shipping point. Generally speaking the practice has been to distribute railway cars on the basis of one car for each elevator. Under that system many grain producers have been compelled by circumstances to deliver their grain to certain country elevators against their wishes and in many instances against their financial advantage.

The Wheat Pools propose that grain producers be given the right to select the elevator to which they want to haul their grain. The plan provides that each farmer should state his preference in writing. The Wheat Board would then be able to direct cars to elevators as the farmers desire.

Should the farmer change his mind after he has stated his preference he would still have the right to deliver his grain to another elevator. He would not be compelled to abide by his original preference.

Such a system would provide for competition between elevators and meet the desires and requirements of the grain producers. It would be entirely fair to all grain producers and all elevator organizations. It is a plan which is the very essence of equity and simplicity.

It has been claimed that the proposal is unnecessary, and that the car order book provides grain producers with effective means of delivering their grain to their selections of elevators. But that is NOT true.

The present grain congestion and the imposition of the quota market system to give every producer a fair share of the elevator space prevents the effective use of the car order book. Before a farmer can obtain a car through the car order book process he must be certain he will have a carload of grain in the country elevator by the time the car is spotted. If he has not such a volume of grain he loses his right to the car.

During the early part of each marketing year in recent times farm deliveries have been severely restricted. Last autumn all a single farmer could deliver under the first quota was 300 bushels of wheat. He simply could not qualify for a car under the car order system. That plan will not operate effectively in periods of severe congestion.

The issue is one for the grain producers to decide and not the elevator organizations. It was only after a long and bitter struggle that the farmer got the right to deliver grain to the elevator of his choice. In recent years that privilege has been lost.

ALBERTA PRODUCTION FIGURES

The year 1954 was bad for Alberta farmers. Gross income from the sale of farm products dropped to $386.7 million from the $466.8 million received in the previous year and the $505.1 million received in 1952. The decline was due mainly to restricted grain deliveries and lower prices for grain.

Notwithstanding the farming industry's relatively poor year, agriculture is still the province's basic industry and by far the largest producer of new wealth. The value of field crop production last year was placed at $305 million while marketings of livestock and livestock products brought $202.5 million. In addition, farmers saved enough meat, eggs and dairy products for their own use.

Oil production, which in recent years has been mounting rapidly, ran second in economic importance with the output placed at $87.7 million barrels of crude, valued at $227.9 million. Coal production was valued at $26.3 million and forestry products brought in a return of $17.1 million.

The value of all manufactured products produced in Alberta in 1954 was placed at $567.4 million, of which the processing of agricultural products made up the largest part. Flour production of 8 large mills was worth $33.9 million, packing plants made sales of $10 million, while dairies reported sales of $30.2 million.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

The way to health and holiness, of dominion over fear and sin which Christ Jesus came to teach, will be emphasized at Christian Science services Sunday. Scriptural selections in the Lesson-Sermon, entitled

"CHRIST JESUS" will include the Master's healing of the servant of the high priest as recorded in Luke's Gospel (22:54-61). "And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right ear. And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus far. And he touched his ear, and healed him." Correlative passages to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (34:10-17): "That he might liberally pour his dear-bought treasures into empty or sin-filled storehouses, was the inspiration of Jesus' intense human sacrifice. In witness of his divine commission, he presented the proof that Life, Truth, and Love heal the sick and the sinning, and triumph over death through Mind, not matter. This was the highest proof he could have offered of divine Love."

The roar of an aircraft engine during ground test can rattle windows and nerves for blocks around. So we're glad to report that aluminum has turned up as a noise-absorbing "honey-comb" in an aircraft company's test-cell. Hundreds of aluminum tubes of differing diameters and lengths, filled with absorbent, sound-buffing material, make up the end walls. And we are told that by the time the giant roar has bounced around in these aluminum mazes it comes out the other end thoroughly "battered" and weakened to a hum. We expect there are lots of aluminum boosters around that factory!

Questions . . . No Answers. Yet!

Not much in the way of editorial material comes to our mind at the moment so we'll try something different:

WHY haven't we had more information from local, municipal or provincial authorities as regards the mass civil defence evacuation plan from Calgary, which is scheduled to take place in September? We're going to have a lot of visitors that day; what do we do with them?

WHY does it usually rain or blow on days when you have the time and opportunity to get out in the open for a day of fun or rest?

WHY have we heard no more from the provincial government on the promised hard-surfaced road from the main highway to town?

WHY isn't an early effort made to get work started on the Westward Ho Park, proposed at the last regular meeting of the council of M.D. Mt. View, No. 49?

WHY don't those behind the gun state plans, and include the public, as to the arrangements for hockey in Didsbury this coming season?

WHY doesn't the local Lions Club start their committees working a little earlier and provide something in the way of real fun and entertainment for the small fry at its annual jamboree?

WHY is it that an effort has not been made by some organization, in conjunction with some other bodies, to sponsor a band in the immediate vicinity?

WHY do some people believe we should be immune from mistakes and broadcast it to everyone but this office?

WHY (this is free advertising) doesn't the person, who may have found a pair of golf shoes on Thursday at the golf course, let me know? (They're mine!)

WHY have we been uninformed as to the number of holidays we may expect here during the much-publicized Jubilee Week?

WHY do people say they don't like TV and then the next week go out and buy the biggest set in town?

WHY do some of the citizens of the town and district insist on doing a majority of their buying out of town when they make their living here? Considering time and travel expenses what do they save?

WHY is it that some competent body has not made arrangements to hold weekly dances in our new auditorium (under strict supervision, of course)?

WHY, tell me why, when the larder is empty on a Sunday, every relative and friend within 200 miles drop in just to say "hello"? (Beans for supper!)

WHY did we ever write this column? (It's raining; nuthin' else to do!)

TOO HARD

On his first trip to a town of any size, the mountain man was fascinated by the asphalt streets, scraping his feet on the hard surface, he remarked to his son.
"Well, I can't blame 'em for buildin' a city here. Ground's too darned hard to plow!"

The Strain Of Fear

In the Institute of Experimental Medicine and Surgery, Montreal, Dr. Hans Selye's work has focused the attention of everyone interested in health, on the detrimental effect of stress in the lives of people today. Any student of children will testify that excessive fear puts a boy or girl under a terrific amount of strain.

How can fathers and mothers best help the too fearful child? It is true, that some fear is necessary in the kind of world in which we live. The child who has no fear of being hit by a car or a truck is apt to run out on the road after a ball, or hurry across to see a chum on the other side of the street, without first looking to left and to the right to see if a car is coming.

The little girl who is not afraid of being burned by her mother's iron, may try to use it herself and receive a nasty burn. The small boy who has no fear of the neighbors cat may tease the pussy once too often. For many years fear has been useful in preventing people from getting themselves into "darker situations".

But many doctors and mental health experts are agreed that there is a great deal too much fear in the minds and hearts of countless children and grown-ups. This unnecessary fear lessens happiness and effectiveness in work. If a person be come increasingly anxious and frightened, physical and mental well being may be in jeopardy.

Parents are warned to use fear of punishment very sparingly in disciplining their children. Never resort to threats about "the big policeman," or "the boogie man," or any other fictitious person who will deal out painful vengeance for misdeeds. Continually frightening a little child into good behavior may seem to "work" in the presence of the adult who has little or no initiative—because he fears failure or disapproval of vague nervous apprehension of some calamity befalling him, is distinctly handicapped.

Fears are very contagious and sometimes it is not fear of punishment but a parent's own fear of lightning or something else which a child "catches." Mothers and fathers should be careful not to pass on to their children their own crippling fears.

It is natural for children to express their fears and look to their parents for reassurance and safety. Several things—the dark, animals, loud noises such as thunder, falling from a high place, and of strangers.

Children should be allowed to speak of their fears. Their parents should tell them that they know that many little children are afraid at times, but as they grow older they will grow braver—and even laugh at the things which scared

Notes From D.A.

By HOWARD J. FULCHER

This year indications are for a good harvest, yields will be fairly good. There will be a problem of storage, emergency measures will have to be taken by many of the farmers to store crop.

All buildings which will be used for grain storage should be checked and repaired if necessary. Moisture is a great menace to the safe storing of grain, leaky roofs, doors not fitting properly or open filling hatchways allow snow and rain in. If grain is to be stored in buildings which have been ventilators these should be weather proofed.

Insects, grain beetles and mites can cause heavy losses to stored grain. The best method of control is to thoroughly clean the storage bins, and use 1% lindane solution sprayed well into all corners and cracks. Do not store newly harvested grain on the top of a little bit of last year's grain which may be mouldy, it is likely to be full of

Many granaries have their life greatly shortened by not being set squarely on the ground, one corner on soft ground or over a low spot will settle when filled causing twisting and in turn breaking up of a good building.

The harvested crop is very valuable and its safe storage is important, a few repairs and a thorough cleaning of bins now may prevent much labor and losses later and will insure a good quality product coming out of the storage bins.

THE NEW CARS

The 1956 autos are going to be bright and early, longer and lower and—no pasps of surprise at this—will have more power under the hood.

Altered and more luxurious interiors will be available. Four-door hardtops will go bigger than ever. There'll be some emphasis on safety angles—seat-belts, padded dashboards, doors which won't spring open on impact, maybe even collapsible steering wheel units.

It isn't a general model change year. Last year (the 1955 model) was the time of the big change.

Children who are hero-worshippers are often assisted by the story of another child or a grownup who was also afraid and in spite of his fear did his duty, or completed the job he had to do.

The constantly fearful child is a "crippled" child and no parent wants his boy or girl to have an unnecessary handicap like this throughout life. Neither the too protective mother's attitude, nor the too impatient father's technique help the child face the problem of setting along with others. Parents need to help their children grow in self-confidence and thus decrease their inner feeling of strain.

2-4-D RESULTS: Recently I have had the opportunity to check numerous fields that had been sprayed earlier with 2-4-D to check Canada Thistle. Some men reported to me that they had realized only fair to poor results this summer where Canada thistle was concerned. Naturally we were anxious to see if we could find the right answer. I think we have.

In careful checking over the thistle plants that had been killed and comparing them with those that have survived the chemical treatment the answer in most cases was simple and obvious.

The sprayer booms were operated close to the ground. You may wonder what difference the height of the booms makes. It makes ALL the difference.

Let me explain. The sprayer booms must be at least 18 inches above the highest weed plant so that the spray pattern from the nozzles will meet above the plant, not half way down on the plant. This means that if the thistle or other weed plants were 18 inches high at the time of spraying, the booms of the sprayer should have been 3 feet above the ground. Some sprayers do not have this range of adjustment, in fact, some that I have checked were travelling at the same height as the weed plants and as a result only the lower part of the weed near the ground received any 2-4-D.

Boom heights in relation to weeds is vitally important to securing satisfactory results. This seems so simple an answer but so often is overlooked when adding up results.

LOT CHEAPER THAN WAR

Decision of free world countries to go easier on armaments does not mean any immediate or significant cutting down in defense expenditures, explains the Financial Post. It simply means that for the time being we are going to coast; that the present rate of defense expenditures will not be stepped up.

For the free world to let down its guard now would be risking all the very real gains we have made in the last five years in maintaining world peace.

Instead of threats bluster and name-calling, Moscow is now offering up trade, friendship and co-operation around the Volga. For this sweetness and light we can at least in part thank our present military strength.

Certainly building up and maintaining that strength has cost Canadians and citizens of other western countries something in taxes. But a well-equipped and well-trained defense force is our best insurance against war in the world today. And compared to the actual cost of modern war, it is mighty cheap insurance.

C.W.N.A. CRUISE SHIPS. An eventful cruise Tuesday, September 13th, around Vancouver Harbor through beautiful Burrard Inlet and the Gulf of Georgia will be a feature of the 36th Annual Convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association at Vancouver. The cruise for the newspaper delegates and their wives will be provided in the Canadian Pacific Railway's beautiful coastal steamer, Princess Patricia, which normally plies the famous "triangle route," linking Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle.

Controversy Arises: Should We Face The Bare Facts?

What makes an otherwise normal Canadian strip want to strip off her clothes and parade around nude in the company of men?

According to Mildred Harris, a columnist for a British Columbia something magazine, and some 2000 other Canadian sun-bathing devotees, the desire to acquire a good coat of tan all over. "It's not only healthy," Miss Harris says, "but refreshingly comfortable. Fine thing in the world. Like stepping into paradise."

Not so at all, counters Jean Howarth, columnist for the Vancouver Province. Miss Howarth recently visited a British Columbia nudist colony in the line of duty, and her findings, with rebuttals from Miss Harris are printed in the current issue of Liberty Magazine. It's a clothes-off, no-holds-barred battle.

Miss Howarth confesses at the beginning that she has nothing against bare skin. On some people, she thinks it looks good. And in some locations — such people who shed their clothes three miles out of Whalley, B. C. in her opinion, are not doing it for either beauty or comfort.

The camp at Whalley, B. C. is just one of 15 nudist camps now active across Canada. In British Columbia, there is the Pac Sun Club near Victoria; the Van Tan in Vancouver (the oldest in Canada); Sunby Trails, New Westminster; and the Border Tans, located near Langley. Then there is the Edmonton Club in Edmonton, Alta; The Sunby Clubhouse, Calgary, Alta; The Manitoba Outdoor Club, Winnipeg, Man.

Generally speaking, Miss Howarth writes, "I felt the nudists at Whalley, B. C. were people with a quirk and that in the nudist camp they had found a way to express themselves, that was roughly speaking, socially acceptable."

The results, she says, "were enough to make an artist quail. A lot of children, a few women, but mostly men. And not one of them calculated to arouse the old Eve. It was a dreary procession of slumped shoulders, pot-bellies, operational scars, and minor imperfections." Apart from having nothing on, they were entirely conventional. They might have escaped from body covering, but their souls still wore corsets.

These opinions did not find much favor in the eyes of Mildred Harris, the writer for the sun-bathing magazine, and a practicing nudist since 1929.

"Why wear clothes when even a bathing-suit seems hot?" Miss Harris wants to know. "Give me a sensible reason for wearing clothes in water." Oh, I know you will say, "One must be decent." But isn't decency something inside you? Is it something you put on by the yard? If you can accept the idea of nudity in the house, and it is recommended now by leading child psychologists, then you should be able to accept the idea of nudity in our great-outdoors among friends of high moral character."

"We 2,000 Canadian sun-bathers strip off lewd prudery along with our clothes," Miss Harris states.

And as for Jean Howarth's assertion that during her visit to the Camp at Whalley, B. C. she did not notice many women present, Miss Harris demolishes that argument with the flat statement, "She couldn't see the women, for looking at the men."

EATIN' TIME

I never hear a field of wheat A-rustin' in the wind. But what I think of things we eat. When it is fit to grind. I think of scrumptious loaves of bread.

A-beamin' in their shell. Fresh from the hot and "oveny" bed.

Just right for jam or jelly. I see a table weighted down. A-rustin' 'neath its score.

With happy faces glancin' round At pies and cakes galore. Let's give King Wheat a hearty cheer.

Long may he live and thrive, To bring these things from year to year.

When eatin' time arrives. —Ivan Moyer Thomas

Housewife, having finally tucked mail-bag into bed after an unusually trying day, sighed: "Well, I've certainly worked from sun-up to sun-down today!"

Squirrel Cage . . .

Friends of uncle Pete were admiring his prize hots at the county fair. One asked: "How come your dogs are so fat? You always win blue ribbons with them."

"Well," drawled Uncle Pete, "I feed them pigs all they can stuff into 'em. Then a couple of week before the fair, I put a half-starved rooster in with them, and when they see that shon' eatin' it rouses the greedy instinct in 'em, and they start eatin' all over again!"

Father trying to explain to his youngster the difference between the ordinary rifle and an automatic one, wound up: "It's as if I spoke and then your mother spoke."

Mother was ill and couldn't go to church, but small Janice went as usual, being cautioned to remember the text of the sermon. When she returned, Janice remembered proudly that it was: "Don't be scared, you'll get your quilts."

Mother couldn't figure it out until she learned from the minister that his text had been: "Fear not, thy Comforter will come."

Matron discussing new cleaning women: "She's expert at putting everything back where she didn't find it."

Driving along a rutty road in a rural area, a tourist came to a fork where stood a signpost. One arrow read: "Chipmunk, 4 miles." The other sign read: "Chipmunk, 2 miles."

He figured one must be a better but longer road, the other shorter but rougher. To make sure, he called to a lone, lean native sitting in the shadow of the signpost: "Say, Mister, which is the better road to Chipmunk?"

The native shifted his cud of tobacco and drawled: "Hain't no better road. Take one, and you'll wish you'd took t'other."

WEDDINGS

SPEICHER - SWALM
The United Missionary Church in Didsbury was the scene of a very lovely wedding. Thursday, August 18, at 7 p.m. It was a wedding of wide interest when Miss Opal Pearl Swalm youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Swalm of Calgary, and Mr. Wayne Speicher, son of Mrs. Mabel Frances Speicher, of Elkhart, Indiana, exchanged wedding vows. Rev. N. Willard Swalm, brother of the bride, officiated. The church was decorated with an arch of fall flowers, featuring a fitted bodice, high mandarin collar, lit point and bouffant skirt, came down the aisle on the arm of her father. Her head piece was a crown studded with sequins and rhinestone from which a shoulder length veil fell over her face and shoulders. She carried a white Bible topped with streamers falling from a bouquet of sweet heart roses and staphanthus. The bride and groom had memorized their vows and faced each other as they spoke them from memory.

Miss Helen Swalm, sister of the bride, was Maid of Honor. Her ballerina length dress was of yellow frosted organdie. She carried mauve and white Chrysanthemums with matching bandana for her head. The bridesmaids were Miss Ann Speicher, sister of the groom from Elkhart, Indiana, and Miss Jane Zeiler, from Mishawaka, Indiana, a class mate of the bride. They wore, respectively, orchid and blue length, and carried yellow and white Chrysanthemums with matching head pieces. The bride's attendants had their dresses made in identical patterns.

Little Miss Sherrill Taylor, lovely in green frosted nylon floor length dress made in the same pattern as those of the attendants, carried bronze roses and wore a matching head piece. Master Douglas Snyder, cousin of the bride, wore a navy-grey combination suit and carried the white satin cushion on which lay the ring. The groom's attendant was his brother Mr. John Speicher. Mr. Elvern Swalm and Mr. Edward Archer were ushers.

Mr. Kenneth Shierick was pianist, and Mr. Ormond Shierick soloist for their cousins wedding. Three songs were sung, one before the ceremony, "O Perfect Love"; another while the couple knelt at the altar of the church, "The Lord's Prayer"; and a third while the register was being signed, "Holy Vows."

Over eighty guests were received by the bride and groom, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Noah Swalm, and Rev. and Mrs. Bailey Traub, who sat for the groom's mother in her absence. Mrs. Swalm wore a becoming gown of brown faille with rust accessories and a corsage of bronze roses. Mrs. Traub, in conventional blue wore pink roses. Rev. D. M. Taylor was Master of Ceremonies for the evening. During the evening meal served beautifully, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor sang two numbers, first, "The Wedding Prayer" and later, "O Master, Let me Walk with Thee." The toast to the bride was given by Rev. Ray Shantz, and Mr. Speicher responded graciously. Mr. Wiesing and Mr. Rupp took pictures during the supper hour. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Speicher left for their honeymoon after the reception.

Russia's New Look At The West

Fortunately for us all, this world is so designed that all living creatures have to do something for their living.

Nations that choose to live by the sword invariably find that the life they have chosen is a harder life and a more measure one than that of the peacefully inclined nations that earn their living by honest toil. We are of the opinion that the unexpected amiability displayed by the Russians at the Geneva conference was due to the fact that peacefully inclined nations that develop their own industries and to refrain from meddling in the internal affairs of other countries.

As far as we can gather, the rulers of Soviet Russia, in their determination to have the strongest army, the mightiest navy, the most powerful air force, and the most deadly weapons in the world, have overlooked the importance of an enlightened, prosperous, self-dependent population whose loyalty to the state has been earned by enlightened fair dealing on the part of the government.

Russian farmers had never had freedom from their government, and the serious food shortage in the country today is directly traceable to this fact. As we see it, the friendliness the Russians displayed at Geneva is an indication that they have come to the conclusion that the west has something that is lacking in the communist philosophy, and they are anxious to discover what it is.

OUR BACON SLIPPING?

For several years the quality of Canadian hogs has been declining, according to the current annual report of Canada Packers. Since 1950 the drop has been particularly sharp. Until then the proportion of "A" hogs in total Canadian marketings had been running well over 30%. Today it is in competition with Denmark or Holland on the British market.

It took Canadian farmers 25-30 years to develop and produce in volume the long, lean type of hogs which produce the highest quality of bacon. We would be short-sighted if we let that foundation work crumble.

The Roman holidays were discontinued because of the overhead. Seems that the lions were eating up the prophets.

ception, the bride and groom wearing identical suits of beige, and the bride having accessories in brown with sweetheart rose corsage. The happy couple will make their home in Indiana near the College which he will be attending next winter. The bride expects to teach school in Mishawaka during the winter months.

Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Bob Fleming and Miss Ruth Hall of Victoria; Mr. Mervin Hall, Miss Nellie Swalm and Mrs. William Mall, Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Hallman, and Miss Nonney Hallman of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pollock, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pollock, of Edmonton; Mr. Howard Farquharson of Maddon; Mr. Scott Hunter of Elks.
